

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. THE attention of the Literary Public, as well as that of Colleges and Universities, is respectfully invited to the late M. R. McNALLY'S Classical and Historical Library contained in this Catalogue. The editions are the rarest and the best. The classics, Latin and Greek, are treasures of learning ; and the most suitable for libraries. The French books, which also form a large portion of this collection, are chiefly historical, being memoirs and works relating to the history of France, and Napoleon the Great. The books are in the best state of preservation. The bindings are mostly in vellum and calf, and are very costly.

Few men, if any, were better adapted to make a selection of choice works than Mr. McNally, the late proprietor of this very valuable library, so well known for his classical and literary attainments. Thirty years of his life in France and England were mostly devoted to this object, the forming of a rich and rare library.

Having been an eye witness of the state of things during the time of Napoleon, he was consequently well suited to appreciate the works that appeared in reference to it. The memoirs of that period are now principally out of print. It will be seen by this Catalogue, that the Latin and Greek books, the French, Italian, Spanish, and English, are each separately drawn in alphabetical order. The Notes appended to each work, are those of Mr. McNally himself.

- The Dutch censors prohibited the printing of this edition in Holland, even after it had been put to press, having discovered that Vossius had incorporated his tract De Prostibulis Veterum: Hence it was finished in England.
- X 53 CHARITONIS APHRODIENSIS DE CHEREA ET CALLIORE. Libri 8. Gr. et Lat. Reiskii cum Notis Var. et D'Orvillii. 1 vol. royal 8vo, vellum, 3 00. Lipsiæ, 1783
- This is a splendid copy, Editio Princeps. The commentary is a treasure of Greek erudition. This valuable and rare edition was reprinted at Leipsic under the care of Beck.
- 54 CICERONIS OPERA, curâ Ernesti, cum Clavi et Notis. A beautiful copy in gilt vellum. 8 vols. 8vo, very neat, vellum, gilt, 24 00. Lipsiæ, 1775
- Gibbon says of this edition, "The most perfect editions of Cicero, that of Olivetus which may adorn the shelves of the rich, that of Ernesti which should be on the tables of the learned, were not within my reach."—Miscel. Works, vol. i, page 89.
- 55 ——— curâ Lambini. 1 vol. 4to. calf, 5 00. Genevæ, 1647
- 56 ——— curâ R. Stephani. 10 vols. 12mo, red morocco, gold original binding, 30 00. Parisiis, 1543
- This edition is printed in Italics, and is highly valued. It is supposed to be the first work printed in this character: it is formed on the preceding Aldine and has the scholia of P. Manutius. It is now rare.
- X 57 CICERONIS OMNIA OPERA, cum Notis Var. curis Grævii, Gronovii, Burmani, Pearcii, et Davisii. Ernesti Clavis, Et Lexicon Ciceronianum. 21 vols. 8vo, vellum.
- They are all the best old Variorum editions brought together in this uncommon set of Cicero. It is very difficult to find this collection brought together all in vellum. The Variorum editions have been published at different times, and in different countries: Holland and England. These latter cannot be found in Dutch binding. Then it is also very difficult to find faultless copies. Hence the rarity of such a collection. A copy can be found in the Spencerian library; but this has been in collection since the time of James the II. The specification of each volume here will give an idea of the rarity of such a collection.
- X 58 ——— ORATIONES, cum Notis Variorum et Grævii. 6 vols. 8vo, vellum. Amst., 1698
- "Rare and very dear."—Harwood.
- "A wonderful treasure of criticism and erudition."—Harwood.

rum Studio Sebastiani. 1 vol. 4to, green morocco, royal, gilt, 10 00. Romæ, 1803

The impression of this admirable edition was limited to 500 copies. The known ability and research of Sebastiani drew off 400 copies in Rome. There is not now a copy to be had in Europe. This copy was bound by Purgold, in green morocco and gold. No poet equals Lycophron in the beauty of his lambics. Anapæsts, trybrachs, and dactyls are rare in him. The wild prophetic wail, the knell of a nation's death rings in our ears, dark and melancholy rising and sinking into abrupt transitions, as those of Pindar. Horace has often copied from him. The reader will recognize many of the first passages of Horace taken from Lycophron.

178 LYCOPHRON. Gr. et Lat. cum Scholiis Tzetæ et Notis priorum et Potteri. 1 vol. 4to, vellum, 5 00. Oxonii, 1704

Recensio commentariorum Tzetæ, Canteri, Scaligeri. Editio Optima. A beautifully executed book. Even if Potter had no merits beyond his edition of Lycophron, he would have lived and died on a poor living. He had merits: those which fitted him for an Archbishopric.

179 LYCURGI ORATIONES. Gr. et Lat. cum Notis Taylori et aliorum. 1 vol. 8vo, calf, 1 50. London, 1828

180 LYSIÆ ATHENIENSIS ORATIONES XXXIV. cum Notis à Vander-Heidio. 1 vol. 12mo, calf, 1 00. Hanovia, 1615

X 192 OVIDII OPERA OMNIA, cum Notis Heinsii. 3 vols. 8vo, vellum, 9 00. Lugd. Batavorum, 1661

"This excellent edition has formed the base of subsequent Variorum editions."—Brunet.

X 193 PAUSANIAS. Gr. et Lat. recensuit, emendavit, explanavit Facius. 4 vols. 8vo, red morocco, 8 00. Lipsiæ, 1794

"An excellent and critical edition. The text is from the Vienna and Moscow MSS. The selection of notes has been made with judgment. There are four indexes."—Furhman.

194 ——— Gr. et Lat. A Xylandro diligente recognitus. Accesserunt annot. Amasæi et Sylburgii. Appendice auctus et indicibus. 1 vol. folio, vellum, 10 00. Francforti, 1583

This had been Kuhn's copy: his name and MSS. notes, division of chapters, ver. lect. abound in every page.

195 PETRONIUS ARBITER, cum Commentariis et Notis integris curâ Burmanni. Editio Optima. 2 vols. in 1, 4to, old calf, 12 00. Lugd. B., 1719

One of the best edited of the Variorum classics. Burhman, by his immense erudition and critical sagacity has so wonderfully illustrated Petronius, that one can no longer read him profitably in any other edition. The first edition is that of 1709.

X 196 PHÆDRUS, cum Notis et integris Commentariis Gudi, Ritterhousii, Rigaltii, Neveleti, Heinsii, Schafferi, Boschi, et excerptis alior., curante Burmanno. Editio Optima. Editio 4to, et emendata. 1 vol. 8vo, half morocco, red, gilt, uncut, 6 00. The best copy extant. Lugd. Batavorum, 1778

- 207 ——— CARMINA. cum versione Lat. et Notis Heyne carminum Pindari fragmenta, cum Hermanni dissertationibus Pindaricis, indices tres a Fiorillo. 1 vol. 8vo, calf, 2 00. London, 1817
- 208 PLATONIS OPERA quæ extant omnia ex novâ Serrani interpret. perpetuis ejusdem Notis illustratâ, H. Stephani de quorundam locorum interpretatione. Judicium et multorum contextus Græci emendatio excudebat H. Stephanus. 3 vls. in 2, folio, old calf, 16 00. Parisiis, 1578
This celebrated edition is well known in the history of classical literature.
"Infinibus Græcæ linguæ copiis, ingenique fertilitate instructus textam emendatam adhuc præstantem curavit H. Stephanus," says Harles.

"This edition has long been considered as a valuable acquisition to the libraries of the learned; and for its variety of critical materials, always held in the highest estimation."—Dibdin.

The first volume was dedicated to Queen Elizabeth, the second to James VI, the third to the Republic of Berne. The dedications are wanting.

- 209 PLATONIS SCRIPTA, Græce omnia, ad cod. MSS. Recensuit variasque inde lectiones diligenter enotavit, J. Bekker. Annotationibusque integris, Stephani, Heindorpii, Hensdii, Wytttenbachii, Lyndavii, Bæckiique, adjiciuntur integræ Servani, Corvarii, Fischeri, Getleberri Astii. Butmonni et Stalbanni necnon ex commentariis aliorum curiosé excerpta. 11 vols. 8vo, linen, 22 00. London, 1826
- 210 ——— DIALOGI IV MENO. Crito, Alcibiades uterque cum Variorum doctissimorum animadvers, curantibus Biestero et Buttmano. Editio tertia aucta. 1 vol. 8vo, half calf, 1 00. Berolini, 1811
- 211 ——— PARMENIDES. Gr. et Lat. Thomson. 1 vol. 8vo, calf, 1 50. Oxon., 1758
- 212 ——— PHÆDO. Gr. et Lat. 1 vol. 8vo, calf, $1. Bipont, 1781
- 213 ——— DE REPUBLICA, lib. X. Gr. et Lat. 2 vols. 8vo, calf, 1 00. Masseg. Cant., 1713
- 214 PLAUTUS. cum Notis Var. et Gronovii. Editio Optima. 2 vols. in 1, 8vo, prize vellum, 4 00. Amst., 1684
- There were three editions published by Gronovius, 1644, 1669, and 1684. There is little difference between them: the last, 1684, is styled the Optima.
- 215 ——— cum Notis Paræi. 1 vol. 8vo, vellum, 2 00. Francforti, 1641
- 216 ——— cum Commentariis Lambini. indicibus instructus. 1 vol. 4to, vellum, 3 00. Geneva, 1622
- 217 ——— recognovit et emendavit Brunck. 3 vols. 8vo, finely bound, calf, 8 00. Bipont, 1788
- This Bipont edition is printed in a more delicate and beautiful style, than any other of the Latin Bipont classics; when the critical scholar reflects that the text has been corrected by such a man as Brunck, he will know how to appreciate it.
- 218 PLINII HISTORIA NATURALIS. A tall copy with large margins, original binding. 2 vols. in 1, folio, old calf, 20 00. Romæ, 1473

This edition, says Dibdin, is perhaps of rarer occurrence, than either of the editions of 1470 and 1472. It does not occur in the Catalogues of our older collections; and was unknown to Harwood. The first 25 lines are occupied by preliminary matter. In the whole there are 397 leaves. A page contains 46 lines. See Lord Spencer's catalogue for details. The present copy belonged to the Duke of Sussex. The royal arms are in the first page. It has neither catch words nor numbered pages. The first page is illuminated: the capitals are done by a pen in red and blue ink. The date is MCCCCLXXIII.

- 219 PLINII HISTORIA NATURALIS, cum Interpretatione et Notis integris Harduini, Barbari, Salmassii, Vossii, Gronovii et Varior. recensuit Var. lect. in Usum Delphini Harduinus. 3 vols. in 2 vols. folio, full calf, original binding, 16 00.

Parisiis, 1741

A copy in such preservation in the original binding is very rare. Editio Optima.

- 220 ——— SECUNDI NATURALIS HISTORIA, cum selectis doctorum virorum commentariis: cum Annotationibus et Commentariis Hermolai, Barbari, Putiani, Gelenii, Scaligeri, Salmassii, Gronovii, Vossii et Varior. accedunt præterea Var. lect. ex MSS. 3 vols. 8vo, vellum, 9 00.

Lugd. Batavorum, 1669

- 221 ——— EPISTOLÆ, cum Notis Var. curâ Cortii et Longolii. A magnificent copy. 1 vol. 4to, vellum, 5 00. Amst., 1734

"Editio Optima. Panegyricus etiam accessit. The best edition of the Epistles and Panegyrics—a masterly performance. They contain everything curious and useful to the subject."—Dibdin.

- 222 ——— EPISTOLÆ, cum Notis Varior. et Veenhusii.. 1 vol. 8vo, calf, 3 00.

Lugd. Bat., 1669

Lipsiæ, 1789

Gibbon speaking of this book while in press, says:—"This accomplished edition, both in text and notes, will extinguish all the preceding ones. The fragments are disposed in such lucid order, that we seemed to have recovered the lost books of Polybius."—Miss. Works, vol. v, page 555.

- 229 PROCOPII CÆSARENSIS, historia Hoesclii et Arcana historia. Gr. et Lat. illustravit Alemannus. A fine copy. Editio Optima. 2 vols. in 1, folio, vellum, 12 00.

Vindob. 1607, et Lugd., 1723

The Arcana was published in 1682, but mutilated.

- 230 POLYÆNI STRATAGEMATA. Gr. et Lat. cum Notis Var. et Maasvicii. 1 vol. 8vo, old calf, 2.40. Lugd. Bat., 1690

An elegant and desirable edition. Copies are scarce.

- X 231 PROPERTIUS. cum Commentario perpetuo Burmanni et Notis Var. curâ Santenii. Editio Optima. 1 vol. 4to, board 6.00. Traject, 1780

"This is, by far, the best edition of Propertius yet published. Besides the commentary of Burmannus, a treasure of critical learning, this work gives the unedited notes of every one that wrote illustrations of this author. The scholar will have in this edition the finest ornament of his library."—Dibdin.

- 232 ——— Perpetua Annotatione illustravit Barthius: accedunt indices locupletes. 2 vols. 8vo, calf, 4.00. Lipsiæ, 1777

"The first contains the text with the Var. notes, those of Valpius and Barthius, and two indexes. The second contains the commentary of the editor, and the greater part of Burman's."—Furman.

- 233 ——— cum Notis Bronkhousii et Variorum. Indices Omnes compl. 1 vol. 4to, vellum, 7.00. Amst. Wetstem, 1727

"This is a superb copy. Omnis Critica est hæc editio. Laudabilis sane et studio editoris in restituendis Propertii Carminibus Opera. Nequetamen hac editione poetæ plane satisfactum videri potest."—Hartes.

- X 234 PRUDENTII OPERA OMNIA, Var. lect. et Notis illustrata cum indicibus copiosissimis. 2 vols. royal 4to, half moroc., red, 12.00. Parma, E Reg. Type, 1789

"This is the most beautiful edition of a classic author. The firmness of the paper, the brilliancy of the type, the notes which accompany every page, render it an ornament beautiful and useful to a library. The text is from the Vatican MSS."—Dibdin.

- 235 PORSONI ADVERSARIA, Notæ et emendationes in Poetas Græcos quas ex Schedis MSS. Porsoni apud Coll. SS. Trin, Cant. repositis deprompserunt et ordinarunt Jac. H. Monk, Jac. Bloomfield, Sumptibus Collegii, Col. SS. T. 1 vol. 8vo, paper 3 00. Cantab, 1812

The most singular, as well as the most valuable critical publication, which has appeared for many years, is this collection of posthumous notes from the pen of Porson, to which the editors, Professors Monk and Bloomfield, have given the name.

- 236 ——— NOTÆ IN ARISTOPHANEM. Gr. et Lat. Quibus Plutum comædiam partim ex ejusdem recensione, partim e MSS. emendatam et Var. lect. instructam præmisit, et appendicem adjecit P. Dobrée. 1 vol. 8vo, linen, 87 cts. Cantab, 1820

- 285 VALERIUS FLACCUS, cum Notis Varior. et Burmanni. 1 vol. 4to, calf, 5 00. Leida, 1724

"This elaborate edition will impart pleasure and instruction to every scholar."—Harwood.

This is a beautiful copy. I had not been able to meet with a fine copy in London or Paris during 16 years; I however found this at Caillard's sale.

- 286 ——— FLACCUS, perpetuo Comment. illustravit Lamp Alardus. 1 vol. 8vo, vellum, 3 00. Lipsiæ, 1630

A present from George Dyer, the historian of Cambridge.

- 287 VALERIUS MAXIMUS, cum Notis integris, Var. et Torrenii. A fine copy. 1 vol. 4to, vellum, 5 00. Lugd. Bat., 1726

Editio Optima Ernesti. "This edition," says Harwood, "is one of the most valuable and best edited of the Dutch classics."

- 288 ——— MAXIMUS, cum Notis Var. et Thysii. 1 vol. 8vo, calf, 3 00. Beautifully printed by Hackius. Lugd. B., 1655

The best octavo edition, now scarce and valuable.

- 289 ——— MAXIMUS. 1 vol. 18mo, blue morocco, 2 00.

Paris, 1566

- 290 VALERIUS PATERCULUS, cum Notis Var. et Burmanni. A magnificent copy. 1 vol. 8vo, vellum, 2 00. Lugd. Bat., 1756

- 291 ——— PATERCULUS, cum Notis Var. et Burmanni. A fine copy. 1 vol. 8vo, calf, 2 00. Lugd., 1744

- 292 VELLEII PATERCULI HISTORIÆ ROMANÆ, ad M. Vincium Cos. libri duo. interpretat. et Notis illustravit Robertus Rigeret, S. J. 1 vol. 8vo, calf, 1 00. London, 1730

- X 293 VELLEII PATERCULUS, cum Notis Var. et Burmanni, a fine copy. Editio Optima. 1 vol. 8vo, prize vellum, 2 00.

Lugd. Bat., 1736

These are beautiful editions. They contain the notes of all preceding editions, with those of Burmanni, the Annales Velleiani, and a copious index. Best editions esteemed by Harwood and Ernesti.

- 294 VIGERUS DE IDIOTISMIS, cum Animadvers. Hovgeveeni, Zeunii et Hermanni. 2 vols. in 1, 8vo, vellum, 3 00. Lugd. B., 1766

Who can say that he has even a tolerable acquaintance with Greek, without having in his hands, without consulting hourly Vigerus, Hovgeveen, Thos. Magister? Who can understand a Greek chorus without Herman?

- 295 VIRGILII MARONIS OPERA QUÆ EXTANT, cum Comment. Donati et Servii primo collectis: accesserunt iisdem annotationes Probi, Sabini, Beroaldi, Hurtingi, Fabricii, Adriani-Barlandi. 1 vol. folio, calf, injured, 7 00. Basil, 1547

- 296 VIRGILIUS Maro qualem omni parte illustratum tertio illustravit Heyne, cui Servium integrum et Varior. notas cum suis subjunxit Lanaire. 8 vols. 8vo, half morocco, blue, uncut, 24 00. Paris, 1819

This splendid and enlarged edition is based on Heyne, of 1793. It has incorporated with the notes of that edition all the notes of that of 1746 by Burman, Heinsius, and Servius not inserted in Heyne. Lemaire poured all the stores of his vast erudition into this edition.

A few remarks on Heyne's edition of 1793 may not be unnecessary. That edition was committed to Porson. It is incontestably the best to that time; and may serve for a model of every other classic. No production of the British press has more to boast of in paper and type. Doctor Burney and Porson superintended the execution: on that account alone, it possesses no slight claims. It must be remembered, that allusion is made here to the quarto edition, with Vignettes, designed by Fiorillo from antique monuments. The Leipsic edition, of which this was a reprint, is the most beautiful of the German press.

- 297 VIRGILIUS, cum Notis Varior. et Emmensii et indice verborum Erythræi. A fine copy. 3 vols. 8vo, calf, 6 00.

Lugd. Bat., 1680

"The best edition cum Notis Var. The typography, which is beautiful and equal to the best Elzevir editions, is accompanied by Vignettes. The edition is now rare."—Dibdin.

- 298 ——— cum Commentariis Veterum. Servii, Phylargyrii, Pierii, et Notis Scaligeri et Lindenbrogii, curâ Maasvici, accedunt indices absolutissimi. 2 vols. 4to, vellum, 8 00.

"A splendid copy. This is one of the most magnificent of the Latin classics edited in Holland."—Harwood.

- 299 VARO TERENCEUS MARCUS, libri de linguâ latinâ qui supersunt cum Fragmentis. 2 vols. 8vo, half calf, 3 00.

Bipont. 1788

- 300 XENOPHONTIS OPERA, cum Notis Leunclavii Amelburni. Gr. et Lat. Accesserunt Emillii, Porti, Fr. Porti. c. fil. Notæ et index græcus verborum, phrasiumque observatione dignam. additis etiam in calce aliis. 1 vol. fo., calf, 15 00. Parisiis, 1625

A magnificent copy. The first bought at Caillard's sale; and sold very high. The paper is thick and strong. There is not in this copy a single spot or stain.

- 301 ——— HELLINICA. recensuit Notis Schneider et Zeunius. 1 vol. 8vo, half morocco, 3 00. Oxonii, 1810

This edition surpasses all others in erudition and research. The Oxford reprint is from the Leipsic of 1791.

FRENCH.

308 L'ANGLETERRE ET LA SAINTE ALLIANCE, par Grassi. 1 vol. 8vo, half calf, 3 00. Paris, 1827

309 ARGENSON, Memoires de. 1 vol. 8vo, half calf, 2 00. Paris, 1825

Argenson was minister of war under Louis XV, was displaced by Madame Pompadour. Her appointments cost France, during eight years of war, over 5,000 ships, a million of men, and the best officers.

310 ARGENS D'OLIVIER, Memoires de. 1 vol. 8vo, half calf, 2 00. Paris, 1824

Argens d'Olivier, correspondence of the Vendéens, Chouans, Charette, Stofflet, and other Royalist generals with England. All Puisayés correspondence, letters of Sambrioul previous to his execution after the affair of Quiberon.

311 ARMEES DU DANUBE. Military operations of Generals Moreau and Masséna from July 3, 1799, to July 18, 1800. 1 vol. 8vo, half calf, 2 00. Paris, An 8 de la République

312 ——— DU NORD, et celle de Lambre et Meuse from March, 1794, to March, 1795. This is the celebrated campaign of Pichegru. The frontier recovered, Belgium conquered, Holland invaded, the Duke of York and his army driven into the sea. 1 vol. 8vo, boards, 1 75. Paris, 1826

313 BAILLY, Memoires de. 3 vols. 8vo, half calf, 6 00. Paris, 1821

Premier Maire de Paris. A very rare book, and one most valuable in disclosing the condition of France before the meeting of the States General. Bailly was elected President of the National Assembly. The taking of the Bastille, the attack upon Versailles, the scene of the Jeu de Paume, all is detailed minutely and graphically. Every remarkable man, Mirabeau, Egalité, Robespierre, LaFayette, Dumourier, presents himself under the eyes of the reader.

314 BARBAROUX, Memoires de. 1 vol. 8vo, half calf, 2 00. Paris, 1822

315 BAUSSET, Memoires sur Napoléon; with portraits of Joséphine, Marie Louise, and Napoléon. 4 vols. 8vo, half calf, 10 00. Paris, 1829

Interior of the Palais Imperial, Bausset was Préfet of the Palace: Every page contains some characteristic trait of the Emperor. This book alone seems to contain all the domestic life of Napoleon. Bausset accompanied him to Moscow. He gives every public event of importance, and what is of more value, the observations of the Palace. No history gives these details. He has some indignant remarks on the atrocity of the English government, and their executioner, Castlereagh.

316 BAYLE, Dictionaire Historique et Critique, avec la Vie de Bayle, par Maizeaux. 5 vols. folio, old calf, 30 00. Amsterdam, 1734

- 317 BESENVAL, Mémoires de. 3 vols. 8vo, half calf, 6 00.

Paris, 1805

Besenal was Colonel General of the Swiss Guards; his views of the Court of France, for forty years previous to the revolution, give a sad, yet profitable, spectacle of government. His narrative is deeply interesting, and leaves no doubt of the intention of the court to disperse by force the Convention. The whole plan was frustrated by the taking of the Bastille.

- 318 BEZOUT ALGEBRE. 1 vol. 8vo, half calf, 1 00. Paris, —

- 319 BONNEVAL, Mémoires de. 3 vols. 12mo, 3 00.

- 320 BOSSUET, Histoire Universelle. Portrait. 2 vols. 8vo, half calf, 5 00. Paris, 1811

- 321 BOUILLE, Mémoires de. 1 vol. 8vo, half calf, 2 00. Paris, 1823

Bouillé was the boldest and ablest man of the Emigration. He was to receive the King at his escape from Paris. It was ill-managed; and the royal family sacrificed to the presumptuous arrogance, ignorance, and folly of the nobility. They thought revolutions could be repressed by Chanson's intrigues, bons-mots, and epigrams; they complained of the "terror," the "cruelty," and "ferocity" of the people. Bouillé's insulting, threatening, and arrogant letter to the Convention, was one of the predisposing causes of the ruin of the Monarchy.

- 322 BOUCHE DE FER. 3 vols. 8vo, half calf, 9 00. Paris, 1792

Journal edited by "Friends of the Revolution." Moderate men that talked well, wrote well; this journal was speedily suppressed, its editors either fell under the guillotine, or quitted Paris: their time had not yet come. All Europe was combined against France. Danton, and men of his class, alone could save France, "l'audace, l'audace, toujours l'audace."

- 323 BOURIENNE, Mémoires de Napoléon. 10 vols. 8vo, calf, 20 00.

Paris, 1829

The four first volumes detail his secretaryship and his companionship. The world expected Bourienne's book with an impatience justified by his long intimacy. It contains facts and traits of character which would have been lost.

- 324 ——— et ses Erreurs. Observations sur ses Mémoires. 2 vols. 8vo, calf, 6 00. Paris, 1830

Girondist's valuable information of the revolution of the terror.

- 329 CAMILLE DESMOULINS, Révolutions de Brabant. 1 vol. 8vo, plates, caricatures, etc., half calf, 2 50. Paris, 1825

Camille was a scholar; a writer. There is a plate in Prudhomme, respecting the scene in the Palais Royal, of Camille calling on the people to resist.

- X 330 CAMPAN, Mémoires de Madame. Portrait. 3 vols. in 2, 8vo, half calf, 5 00. Paris, 1826

The history of the Palace, of the famous necklace, of the sack of the Tuilleries on the 10th of August. More is known of Marie Antoinette through Madame Campan than through any other Memoir of the time.

- 331 CAMPAGNES DES FRANÇAIS EN ITALIE. 5 vols. 8vo, half calf 10 00. Paris, an 6

The history of the celebrated campaigns in Italy; the most detailed history in existence; subsequent historians have confined themselves to military operations.

- 332 CARNOT, Mémoires de. Portrait. 1 vol. 8vo, half calf, 2 00. Paris, 1824

Genius, honor, principle: his life a study: his latter years a lesson. He who saved France twice; who voted against the Consulship for life; against the Empire; was called out in 1814, in the hour of danger, and entrusted with the defence of Antwerp by the Emperor against whom he had voted; Minister of War, during the hundred days; by the same call, he governed France from June to September, went into exile, taught mathematics to support himself at Warsaw. He chose his place of exile wisely. See the Emperor Alexander's letter to Carnot, entreating him to receive a pension; the terms of this letter are "not as an Emperor to Carnot," but "as a soldier to a soldier," and the answer declining the pension.

Tenth Volume—O'Meara; Napoleon en exile.

"Je lègue l'opprobre de ma mort à la Maison régnante d'Angleterre."—Napoléon.

- 354 COUP D'ŒIL sur la Politique Européenne, at the close of the 18th century, by Barère. 1 vol. 8vo, half calf, gilt back, 3 00. Paris, an 8 de la République

A valuable historical matter, with much less of declamatory matter. France had repelled all Europe from her frontiers; followed them into theirs, exacted payment in territory; had but one declared enemy now: the people had less need of appeals to feeling and passion. First chapter—situation of France since the peace of Aix la Chapelle to 1789; conduct of the other European powers; situation of France since the Revolution; of the powers of England; effects of the revolution on Europe, of the new opinion of each of them towards France and one another. The Articles—Russia and England, are well worth studying; Russia has been a mine of wealth to England, not only in direct foreign commerce, but in internal commerce. In every Russian commercial city, even in Moscow, there are English houses with a Russian partner; these houses are rich, punctual, safe, they hold eleven-twelfths of the internal trade in Russia.

- 355 ——— sur la Pologne. 1 vol. 8vo, half calf, 2 00. Paris, an 7 de la République
356 CONDILLAC, Œuvres Philosophiques de. 3 vols. 8vo, calf, 6 00. Parme, 1792

- 357 CLERGE, HISTOIRE DU, de France, pendant la Révolution. 3 vols. 12mo, half calf, 2 50. Paris, 1828
History of the Clergy during the Revolution.

- 358 DAMPMARTIN, Mémoires de l'Emigration. 2 vols. 8vo, half calf, gilt back, 4 00. Paris, 1822
He emigrated in 1791. Politics and character of the court of Prussia, where he resided.

- X 359 DANGEAU. A journal of thirty-four years of all that took place under the reign of Louis XIV, from the taking a dose of medicine, to the taking off a head by Louis XIV; edited by Madame de Genlis. 5 vols. 8vo, half calf, gilt back, 15 00. Paris, 1824

- 360 DESMOULINS CAMILLE. Révolution de Brabant. 12 vols. 8vo, half calf, 24 00. Paris, —

Camille was a scholar, a writer; at once powerful, clear, forcible, and sarcastic. There is a plate in Prudhomme, representing the scene in the Palais Royal, Camille calling on the people to resist. He is mounted on a table with a pistol in his hand. This is the only complete copy. His life, and the numbers of the "Vieux Cordelier" which caused his death, are in the Catalogue separately. There are plates of all the popular scenes, caricatures, etc.

- 361 DESOUDARDS, Histoire de la Révolution Française, beginning with the state of France two years before the commencement of 1789 to 1806. Minute details of the scenes in Paris. 10 vols. 8vo, calf, 20 00. Paris, 1807

- 362 DIXHUIT BRUMAIRE. 1 vol. 8vo, half calf, gilt back, 3 00. Paris, 1819

A full and ample detail of the fall of the Directorial Government, and the establishment of the Consulate.

- 363 DOPPET, Mémoires de. 1 vol. 8vo, half calf, gilt back, 3 00. Paris, 1823

- 364 DRAKE, Ambassadeur Anglais at Munich. 2 vols. 8vo, calf, 6 00. Paris, —

Correspondence, organization of, and transmission of money to, the association formed in Paris to assassinate the Emperor Napoleon. The first attempt, that of the Machine Infernale, failed: the second, on a larger scale, was formed. Pichegru, Georges, the Polignacs were landed secretly from an English sloop of war at Beville, in Normandy, and conducted by night-travelling into Paris; the trial of 36 accomplices, which continued several days, in which the complicity of the English is clearly established, is the next article in this Catalogue. The French Government found it necessary to employ Mehée de la Touche, in the character of a Royalist agent, in order to counteract this atrocious system; Mehée became acquainted with the plot on the arrest of the conspirators. Thus landed, Drake, Spencer, and Smith took to flight and escaped to Hamburg, thence to England. Sir George Rumbold, resident at Hamburg, employed in the same manner, was arrested and conveyed to Paris, his correspondence was seized, and he was released. The unfortunate Duc d'Enghein, who had been directed to establish himself on the right bank of the Rhine, to enter into France in the confusion consequent on the assassination, was arrested and shot. The infamous concoctors, Drake, Smith, and Wickham, three Ambassadors, fled; and the agents of their plots perished.

- 365 DUBOIS, CARDINAL, Mémoires de. 4 vols. 8vo, half calf, 8 00. Paris, 1829

Nothing more horrible, degrading, demoralising, than the private life of the Regent, Philippe D'Orleans, and this his tutor, friend, and minister. A book to read.

- 366 DULAURE, ESQUISSES DE LA RÉVOLUTION. 6 vols. 8vo, half calf, 18 00. Paris, 1823

In six volumes, fine paper, with portraits, and plates of all the scenes in Paris from the taking of the Bastille. Dulaure was a member of the "States General." He died in 1826. An expensive book, but invaluable for its details. No one can have an adequate idea of the origin, commencement, and progress of the revolution, who has not read Dulaure.

- 367 DUMOURIEZ, Mémoires de, par lui même. 4 vols. 8vo, half calf, gilt back, 9 00. Paris, 1822

His life up to the revolution; his defense of France; his desertion. All the prominent details of his revolutionary life are known to few. A most interesting and valuable book.

- X 368 DU HAUSSET, Madame de, Mémoires. 1 vol. 8vo, half calf, gilt back, 3 00. Paris, 1824

Madame Du Hausset was femme-de-chambre of Madame Pompadour. Whoever wishes to see the interior of a palace, and of a court governed by a favorite; to see the nobility of France at the feet of this woman, and a people outraged, plundered, insulted by them all, let him read this book.

- 369 ——— Idem par le Dieu. 1 vol. 8vo, boards, 6 00. Paris, 1826

From November 13, the day of the Emperor's arrival in Paris, to the 31st of March, 1814, the occupying of Paris. A minute detail of this short campaign, in which the Emperor with a handful of men, defended France against all Europe; the procès verbal of the proceedings at Chatillon; the capitulation of Paris; the entry of the Allies; the treachery of some, the weakness of all. What a spectacle!!

- 381 FAUCHE BOREL, Mémoires de. Portrait. 4 vols. 8vo, half calf, gilt back, 10 00. Paris, 1829

For every evil there is some good. The Restoration has done something for history. Every villain, assassin, or hirer of assassins, from 1793 to 1815, came out into daylight, and told his services, his treasons, his crimes, his share in infernal machines, in plots of premeditated assassination of individuals, and subversion of government. Fauche Borel was a secret agent. His four volumes have the footstep of England in every page. The whole business of Pichegru: his treason, his price, his attempts. This was denied in England, Soller's, Drake's, Spencer's, Smith's, Wickham's organization of assassination in France, all denied. It all came out at the Restoration. Borel, furious at being cast off, told the whole. The most valuable record of the 32 years. Every man who has a country to care for, should read Borel's book. It has portraits of all the distinguished men of Europe of that time.

383 FÉRIÈRES, MARQUIS, Mémoires de. 3 vols. 8vo, half calf, gilt back, 9 00. Paris, 1822

The scarcest and most valuable memoir of the Revolution. Férières was one of the nobility; representative of his class; an impartial witness.

384 FOUCHÉ, Mémoires de. Portrait. 2 vols. 8vo, half calf, gilt back, 5 00. Paris, 1824

Description is needless here! Who has not heard of him? Minister of Police up to 1809. He had been an actor in the "terror." His name is another name for intrigue, skill, and sagacity. This life of his is a study. Josephine paid him 10,000 francs a month for the report of the Privy Council. He must have been rich: he lost nothing.

Which preceded the Coalition against France in 1792. The history of the armed neutrality established among the maritime powers, England excepted; the foundation of the armed neutrality was laid in 1780, by Catherine of Russia, and acceded to by France, Spain, Denmark, Sweden, Holland, Prussia, Austria, and Portugal. The principles are two, see page 23. This was formed to resist the pretended right of search put forth by England in 1763 and 1778. The progress of European politics is traced up to the coalition against France: the treaties of Pavia and Pilnitz are given. This book traces the progress of the armed neutrality in resistance to the English assumed right of search.

Private life of Louis XVI. Full of anecdotes of character, domestic life, habits, etc.
- 414 HUGO (le Général), Mémoires de. 3 vols. 8vo, boards, 6 00. Paris, 1823
First Volume—contains the operations on the Rhine from 1792 to 1802; La Vendée to the end of the war; Italy; Naples. The campaign against Fra Diavolo brings into view the character, skill, and energy of the Italian banditti, who alone resisted the French army so long in the south of Italy. In this volume are found the Sanitary Regulations, 42 articles, where contagious diseases prevail: the yellow fever, the plague; the greater number drawn from experience and observations made at Marseilles during the plague. A highly valuable and important piece. Free circulation of pure air seems to be the most effectual sanitary agent. The churches were closed, and public worship performed in the streets, at temporary altars. The streets and lanes were kept clean; every householder was obliged, at the sound of the Cathedral bell, to sweep, and wash the gutters; cleanse and white-wash the cellars. No terrible effects seemed to be produced by fires fed in the streets.
Second Volume—War in Spain, from 1709 to 1813, Bayonne condition of Spain, organization by Joseph; the Junta of Seville; military operations in the South; "Guerillas;" their destructive action upon a regular army; upon convoys, upon advanced guards, posts, rear-guards, upon sick, fatigued prisoners.
Third Volume—War in Spain to 1814; character of the Spaniards; variation of population. Valuable memoir upon correspondence in an enemy's country: return to France; operations up to the occupying of Paris in 1814. Return from Elba; Hugo appointed to Thionville; events subsequent to the battle of Waterloo; Hugo preserves his rank under the Bourbons; curious details from June to September; good conduct of the Russians, officers and men; sincerity, good faith, and honor of the Russian besiegers. A most instructive book, as well in its military details, as in its observations upon the characters and results of the proceedings. Hugo was a General of Engineers, the highest grade in the highest department.

 An open avowed Jacobin. After the Consulate, he retired to the country, and resumed his practice. He was a physician; was exiled in 1815; retired to Brussels, and practised there. St. Just and he had been pro-consuls with the Army of the North: he was at Dunkirk, where the Duke of York was defeated; he directed the pursuit—what few men would avow in 1829. His anecdotes and details are valuable; the two first volumes were seized by the police, in Paris, in 1830. The revolution of 1830 changed all that. The third and fourth volumes were written afterwards. Portraits are also in them. The two first volumes were seized by the government of Charles X, a few weeks before the revolution of 1830.

There is not a complete copy in existence. The first six months are wanting. It came out irregularly at its first appearance. A week, more or less, elapsed without a number. No one knew either the place of publication, or the residence of the editor. It was represented in the caricature shops, held up by a hand thrust through a flooring. One of these representations is to be found in Camille Desmoulins' paper. The last year is complete with the number calling for 300,000 heads, and the heads of all the bakers and grocers. The last number, half written on the day of his assassination, was finished by another, and contains two plates, one at the moment of the blow; he is still in the bath; but dying. The second, the arrest of Charlotte Corday; plates of her trial and execution. Marat had a sister, who lived to an advanced age in extreme poverty. This terrible thing is the fever pulse of the time. A general cry of indignation rose on the continent of Europe at the publication of Walter Scott's libel, in six volumes, entitled the life of Napoleon Bonaparte. They had murdered the man among them, and they gave this Scotchman half-a-crown to write a libel on him; there is not a page in his book without a falsehood or a perversion of facts.

France and Europe turned their eyes upon Norvins. This book is his, in four thick volumes, portraits, maps, plans of all the battles.

Papers seized at Barenth. Correspondence of Mr. Drake, English Ambassador at the Court; of Mr. Spencer Smith, Ambassador at Stutgard; of Mr. Wickham, Ambassador at Bâle—correspondence of these three Ambassadors with an organized society of traitors and assassins in France. This correspondence, the means of its discovery; the attempt of the Nivose to assassinate the First Consul by means of the machine infernale, and subsequently by the attempt with larger means; the landing of Pichegru, the Polignacs, Georges, Cadondal, and others from an English sloop-of-war, on the coast of Normandy; the general rising of La Vendée; the seduction of officers in garrison on the frontier, simultaneously with the assassination of the Emperor; the enormous sums of money transmitted through these Ambassadors to the societies in France thus established for assassination; the presence of the unfortunate young man, the Duc d'Enghein, on the other side of the Rhine to avail himself of the blow and its results; are all proved by the seizure of these papers, and corroborated by the trials hereto annexed. Copies of these papers, of the correspondence of these English Ambassadors, who then used their position as Ambassadors at Stutgard and Dresden, were transmitted by the Imperial Court to all the Foreign Ambassadors in Paris, and thence to St. Petersburg, Vienna, Berlin, Madrid, Stockholm, and Copenhagen. The correspondence thus seized, is now to be found only in the public archives of St. Petersburg, Vienna, Berlin, and others. The trials of the assassins, which lasted eight days, in Paris, are scarcely to be found. Like the Memoirs of Catherine II, they were bought up by the agents of the English Ambassadors, by Consuls, by English merchants and travellers, and destroyed.

 460 PERLET, Journal de la Terreur. 6 vols. 8vo, half calf, gilt back, 30 06. Paris, 1893-94

First number was established September 22, 1792: a daily paper of eight pages. Numbers from January 13, 1793, to October, 1793, are wanting. It ceased to appear on the 1st of June, 1794, nearly two months before the fall of Robespierre. The list of the guillotined, in its last number, was fourteen; their names, ages, qualities, accusations, are given: among them a silk merchant aged 78, a nun aged 74 acquitted, a priest aged 60 condemned. The arrangement of the matter is, first—the debates of the preceding day; foreign views; domestic views; revolutionary tribunal, as above; 9th May, 28 old farmers, Generals, some of them 76, 71, 78, 70, 68 years of age; on the 11th of May, the Princess Elizabeth, sister to Louis XVI, aged 30, the fairest, purest of God's creatures. (See the anecdote of the scaffold.) As the plank to which she was attached was shoved under the axe, the executioner snatched from her shoulders a small handkerchief which his assistant had allowed her to retain. Her head was already under the guillotine; she cried out to him, as he snatched it away, "Oh monsieur, au nom de la pitié!" The axe fell upon the last word. The Journal was supposed to be in the interest of the Orleans family, though it is not easy to discover why.

This review of the policy, interests and powers of the nations of Europe, was begun by the Duke of Broglio, the Ambassador at Vienna, for the private use of Louis XV, continued by Favien, and the whole brought up to the commencement of the reign of the young king Louis XVI, by Count Philip Ségur. Ségur had been Ambassador to Catherine of Russia, highly distinguished, esteemed, and trusted by her. The third volume is brought up to the year 1801. - 467 — DE GEORGES, MOREAU, PICHEGRU. Très rare, pièce précieuse pour l'histoire. 6 vols. 8vo, half calf, gilt back, 18 00. Paris, 1804

Trial of Georges, Pichegru, and others, for conspiracy against the person of the First Consul. Number of prisoners 47. The trial lasted nine days: the number of witnesses 160, each prisoner was allowed counsel and full liberty of cross examination; 20 were found guilty; of these 8 were pardoned, 22 acquitted, 5 condemned to two years imprisonment: Pichegru committed suicide in prison. The guilt of conspiracy to assassinate is clearly and undeniably proved on the English government. It became every man, who has an opinion on this matter, to read the proofs exhibited on this trial.

First Volume contains the report of the Attorney General; the letters of Drake, the passports given in London to Latouche, signed at the office of the Home Department, the examination of the prisoners. The bills of exchange were drawn by Thullussons of London, on Thorntons of Paris. One bill is 144,000 francs. It mentions the prisoners, their purpose, etc. It is a most valuable and important historical piece.

- 478 RÉVOLUTIONS DE PARIS. Collection complète de ce Journal depuis son commencement jusqu'à son extinction en Février, 1794, avec figures. 17 vols. large 8vo, half calf, very neat, 51 00. Paris, 1790

The first number contains the details of the attack and taking of the Bastille, with plates of all the popular outbreaks; the massacres at the Abbey; the Queen, the Girondists on trial; the execution of the Queen, of the Girondists, of the king, of Egalité; the list, week by week, of all that were guillotined, their ages, their names, conditions, imputed crimes, no where else to be found; the debates of the Jacobins at the National Assembly; the most minute detail of every incident from 1789 to 1794: each number contains 48 pages 8vo. closely printed. It shared and supported all the terrorist opinions of the time: finally five months before the death of Robespierre it ceased to appear, when the terrorists began to destroy each other. On reading this terrible record, the reader imagines himself a spectator in the streets of Paris; the trial of the Queen, the interrogatories fill 40 closely printed pages; the procession to the scaffold from the Conciergerie to the place de la Révolution, a distance of two miles; her manner on the scaffold: the plate represents her with her hands tied, the Executioner's valets, with the plank, approaching to tie her to it. The trial of the Girondists fills 80 pages of the smallest type; the plate of the trial presents the Judges in the revolutionary costume, likewise the public accuser, (Fouquier Tainville). The plate of the execution represents Brissot in the hands of the Executioner. There is not a second complete copy in existence.

- 479 ROBESPIERRE, Mémoires de. 2 vols. 8vo, half calf, gilt back, 8 00. Paris, 1831

The commission appointed by the Convention on the day of his execution, examined every scrap of paper; they found nothing of plan, scheme, plot or complicity with the stranger, no money or evidence of any kind. This is a copy of the original report on the same bad paper and bad type. The Convention was rich in defending France poor in money. He was a fanatic on politics. Why should there not exist a fanatic in politics as well as in religion, at the end of ten centuries of abuses that cried to Heaven. Courtois, the chairman of the commission, was alive in 1820, he was also an actor in the 18th Brumaire, and Levator under the Empire.

- 486 ROVIGO (duc de Savary), Mémoires de. 8 vols. 8vo, half calf, 16 00. Paris, 1828

Pour servir à l'Histoire de l'Empereur Napoléon. It gives more facts, and these all new. He was aide-camp to Dessaix, on the Rhine, and accompanied him to Egypt. He gives the most copious details, and the most interesting of the advance to Acre, attack, retreat, return to France with Dessaix. He comes into Marengo, becomes aide-camp to the First Consul, whom he never left. Hence his intimate knowledge, and the abundance of his details and anecdotes. He was the aide-camp sent by the First Consul, at Austerlitz, to the Emperor Alexander; as Minister of Police, he went to England with the Emperor; separated from him, he was thrown into prison, sent to Malta by the English government, and imprisoned; he was allowed at last to walk on the ramparts, then allowed to return to France. His attachment to the person of the Emperor might well be called Fidelity.

French revolution in three 4to. volumes, with excellent maps of the early campaigns. Carlyle has drawn most of his description from him: Toulangeon was a member of the Constituent Assembly, of the Institute of the Legion of Honor, and a General officer. All the campaigns and battles are accompanied by maps and plans: that of Dunkirk, where the English were defeated by an inferior army, pursued into Holland, and barely escaped to their ships, is as beautifully executed as it is correct.

- 517 ATLAS NOUVEAU, par G. De L'Isle, Contenant toutes les parties du monde. 1 vol. large very thick folio, atlas form, half Russia, 75 00. Amsterdam, —

This is a very rare work. It contains the Astronomical Geography, which explains the correspondence of the terrestrial globe with the sphere. It contains the Natural Geography, which gives the divisions of all the parts of the earth and of the water, accordingly as they are distributed in large portions, and in kingdoms, or as they are different and naturally divided from each other. It contains the historical geography, which considers the earth in its sovereign States, in the extent of its religions, and of its different languages. This work can not be found at present. It is a mine of information.
